FROM TOURNAMENT DIRECTOR, ROD WELLS:

Sign-In: It becomes a little chaotic during sign-in. This is a very busy time for me. I'd like you to limit the visitation until after the round. It would work smoother if you checked in, got your hole assignment, paid the entry fee, and planned on socializing later. Don't forget...sign-ins stop 30 minutes before the tee time. Thank you.

PUN INTENDED...

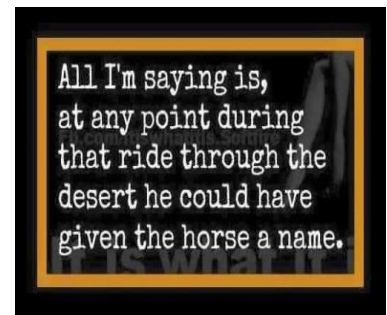

My friend went bald years ago, but still carries around an old comb...he just can't part with it.

RAKE THE BUNKERS!!

It's the courteous thing to do for your fellow golfers and the grooming of the golf course. NTSGA has altered the USGA rules slightly in order to provide an enjoyable round for senior golfers. A ball in a bunker must be played as it lies unless it settles in an animal or human footprint, mud, water, or an abnormal condition created by maintenance equipment. If a ball rests in any of these conditions or wet sand and the bunker has areas of dry sand, the ball may be lifted, dry sand raked and the ball dropped (from knee height) in the raked sand. The NTSGA Rules of Tournament Play may be viewed behind the By-Laws tab on the ntsga.org website.

FUNNY:

...Tom McMahan

A cowboy, who just moved to Wyoming from Texas walks into a bar and orders three mugs of beer. He sits in the back of the room, drinking a sip out of each one in turn. When he finishes them, he comes back to the bar and orders three more.

The bartender approaches and tells the cowboy, “You know, a mug of beer goes flat after I draw it...it would taste much better if you bought one at a time”.

The cowboy replies, “Well, you see, I have two brothers. One is an Army Airborne Ranger; the other is a Navy Seal, both serving overseas somewhere. When we all left our home in Texas, we promised that we’d drink this way to remember the days when we drank together. So, I’m drinking one beer for each of my brothers and one for myself.”

The bartender admits that this is a nice custom, and leaves it at that.

The cowboy becomes a regular at the bar and always drinks the same way. He orders three mugs and drinks them in turn. One day, he comes in and only orders two mugs. All the regulars take notice and fall silent.

When he comes back to the bar for the second round, the bartender says, “I don’t want to intrude on your grief, but I wanted to offer my condolences on your loss.”

The cowboy looks quite puzzled for a moment, then light dawns in his eyes and he laughs.

“Oh no, everybody’s fine,” he explains. “It’s just that my wife and I joined the Baptist Church and I had to quit drinking.”

“Hasn’t affected my brothers though!”
